

Childhood Lead Risk Questionnaire

STATE LAW REQUIRES:

All children 6 years of age or younger must be evaluated for lead exposure.

All children must be assessed for risk of lead exposure and tested if necessary for enrollment into daycare, preschool, and kindergarten.

Complete the Childhood Lead Risk Questionnaire during a well-child or health care visit for children ages 12 and 24 months of age (at minimum) and once a year at annual well-child-visits at ages 3, 4, 5, and 6 years.

- If responses to all the questions are "NO," re-evaluate at next age referenced above or more often if deemed necessary.
- If any response is "YES" or "DON'T KNOW," a blood lead test must be obtained.
- If there are any "YES" or "DON"T KNOW" answers and
 - previous blood lead testing was done at 12 and 24 months of age with a result of 4.9 μg/dL or less OR if not performed at 12 and 24 months, a blood lead test was performed at 3, 4, 5, or 6 years of age with a result of 4.9 μg/dL or less, and
 - √ there has been no change in address of the child's home/residential building, child care facility, school, or other frequently visited facilities and
 - ✓ risks of exposure to lead have not changed, further blood lead tests are not necessary.

Guidelines for Lead Risk Evaluation and Blood Lead Testing

- Lead risk evaluation is the use of the Childhood Lead Risk Questionnaire to determine the risk of potential for lead exposures.
- Blood lead testing is defined as obtaining a blood lead test either by capillary or venous methodology. Only a venous test can serve as a confirmatory blood test.
- A child is considered to have an elevated blood lead level once a venous test is conducted, confirming the blood lead level is ≥5 μg/dL. All capillary (finger/heel stick) test results of ≥5 μg/dL must be confirmed by venous draw. Point of care instruments such as the LeadCare® II cannot be used to confirm an elevated blood lead level, even if the sample is collected by venipuncture.
- It is always appropriate to obtain a diagnostic blood lead test when a child is symptomatic or a potential exposure to lead has been identified, regardless of child's age.
- Federal mandates and the Illinois Department of Healthcare and Family Services' (HFS) policy require that all children enrolled in HFS medical programs be considered at risk for lead poisoning and receive a blood lead test at ages 12 months and 24 months. Children older than the age of 24 months, up to 72 months of age, for whom no record of a previous blood lead test exists, also must receive a blood lead test. All children enrolled in HFS medical programs (such as Medicaid, All Kids, Head Start, and WIC) are expected to receive a blood lead test regardless of where they live. (Consult Handbook for Providers of Healthy Kids Services, Chapter HK-203.3.1, for more blood lead testing and reporting information.)
- Illinois has defined ZIP code areas at high risk for lead exposure based on a variety of considerations, including housing age and poverty rates. Review the list of ZIP codes and determine status of ZIP codes in your area.

Childhood Lead Risk Questionnaire

- ✓ Complete the Childhood Lead Risk Questionnaire during a well-child or health care visit for children ages 12 and 24 months of age (at minimum) and once a year at annual well-child-visits at ages 3, 4, 5, and 6 years.
- ✓ If responses to all the questions are "NO," re-evaluate at next age referenced above or more often if deemed necessary.
- ✓ If any response is "YES" or "DON'T KNOW," obtain a blood lead test.
 - ◆ If there are any "YES" or "DON"T KNOW" answers and
 - \checkmark previous blood lead testing was done at 12 and 24 months of age with a result of 4.9 μg/dL or less OR if not performed at 12 and 24 months, a blood lead test was performed at 3, 4, 5, or 6 years of age with a result of 4.9 μg/dL or less and
 - √ there has been no change in address of the child's home/residential building, child care facility, school, or other frequently visited facilities and
 - ✓ risks of exposure to lead have not changed, further blood lead tests are not necessary.
